DHH, Medicaid, Bayou Health

ver. 2015

Providers should check registries

When selecting a Bayou Health Plan among Louisiana's five managed care organizations (MCOs), enrollees rely on the accuracy of the information contained in the Bayou Health provider registry and the MCO online directories.

Medicaid needs your assistance in ensuring your information is accurate and up-to-date. Be certain your patients have the latest information about your practice when making this important decision. Links to the five MCO (insurance company) directories as well as a link to the Bayou Health provider search tool are contained in this article.

To verify your information, click on the links and search for your practice. Please search for your name among those MCOs that you are not contracted with and notify us if you appear as part of their network. The inclusion of non-contracted providers in an MCO directory is strictly prohibited and can lead to linkage issues for members.

If your contact information is incorrect, please contact the company directly to update your information. If you appear in the MCO's provider search but you are NOT contracted with the MCO, please notify DHH by contacting Mark Perry at mark.perry@la.gov or Jode Burkett at jode.burkett@la.gov as soon as possible.

DHH Implements Recovery Audit Contractor Program

Deborah J. Juneau, partner with the Kean Miller law firm in Baton Rouge, has written recently about the Recovery Audit Contractor (RAC) Program, which kicked in Nov. 20, 2014, as required by the Affordable Care Act.

The new RAC program provides yet another mechanism by which the Louisiana Department of Health & Hospitals (DHH) through its contractors, can conduct post-payment audits of claims submitted by providers enrolled in Medicaid. Information covered in her article includes the scope of review, and what is required of the provider, as well as the government.

President's Message

Lorrie Rogerson, CPC, CMPE

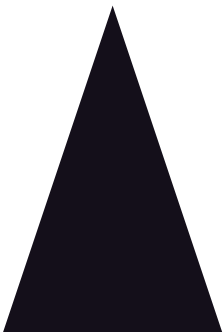

Wow! Can January already be headed to the finish line!? This is a busy month for managers as the new year begins and it's also quite busy and lively for MGMA-Louisiana as we look at a number of projects we are very excited about.

For openers, most of the Board is headed to Denver where MGMA annually hosts a State Leaders Conference for all state boards. I have attended several of these (Louisiana brought home a trophy from a recent one!) and the knowledge gleaned from experts and networking with board members from other states is just invaluable.

Another project we are working on this year is exploring the option of combining our state and local chapter memberships. As you might imagine, there are lots of dynamics involved here but we have three chapter presidents working on this – coincidentally, two of them are also on our board. They will be studying what other states have done and craft an idea for Louisiana.

I'd like your thoughts on a mentoring project – we have about 13 student members this year, which is a record. The bulk of them are located in Lafayette at the University of Louisiana - Lafayette's healthcare administration program, but we also have an MBA candidate in healthcare administration from Tulane, where I was honored to recently speak. Send me your thoughts and ideas on this and I'll be picking everyone's brain on this, as well, in Denver in early February. If anyone is interested in assisting the board on this project please contact me.

Till next time, catch a lot of beads, stay warm and safe, and remember to tell others about the value of membership in MGMA-Louisiana.

Negotiating contracts

Susan E. Charkin, writing for the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS), points out: "Knowledge is power. The more you know about a health plan—whether it's a health maintenance organization (HMO) or a preferred provider organization (PPO)—the more successful your negotiations will be. Read more here.
